"Living the dream I can afford" is what the pink sign on the side of this parade entry read during Canada Day celebrations in Drayton Valley. The celebrations began with a free pancake breakfast at the Drayton Valley plus 55 Recreation Centre, followed by the parade at 10 a.m., a whole day of activities on the grounds near the Omplex and concluded with a spectacular fireworks display shortly after 11 p.m. (See photo highlights of Canada Day on Page 2.)

Town Manager Moving On to Lead the Clean Energy Technology Centre

This year, Mr. Manny Deol will be marking the end of an era with a change in his present role of Chief Administrative Officer (CAO). He will be transitioning to the leadership role at the Clean Energy Technology Centre once a new CAO has been recruited by Council.

The Clean Energy Technology Centre will be home to a centre of innovative excellence, offering educational, economic and entrepreneurial opportunities. The Centre is scheduled to open in late 2015 and be fully operational in 2016. For Mr. Deol the job ahead is a new challenge to address the needs of the community and industry in terms of skills and labour, education and training for the new era, business incubation, development and applied research.

Mr. Deol will be leaving the role of Town CAO after a remarkable 42 year career of continuous service for the community including working with 7 Mayors and 78 Councillors. He is well known for his vision, intelligence, knowledge, innovative thinking and passion for this community. Manny Deol has built lasting and productive relationships in our community and across Alberta. He is an excellent fit to lead the CETC, and his ideas and energy will assist in moving the Centre forward.

Drayton Valley has seen tremendous growth in terms of assets, infrastructure, recreation and cultural facilities and economic growth during his time with the Town. Mayor Glenn McLean said "Mr. Deol's dedication and leadership to this community for the last 42 years is deeply appreciated by the current and previous Councils. We are all fortunate to have the opportunity to work with him during the decades he has dedicated to Drayton Valley and we are very pleased to have his on-going commitment to develop the CETC."

Registrations now open for Parks Day 2015

Justine Kinnison
Western Review

Brazeau County and area residents can check out the eighth annual Parks Day to be held on July 18 at the Willey West Campground. The event is organized by the Eagle Point-Blue Rapids Parks Council in celebration of Parks Day across Canada.

Different local organizations will be at the event to help out with some of the activities planned for the day.

"Some of the activities that will be happening are a paddle down the river in a canoe with the Drayton Valley Paddling Club and so registrants will be able to go on a canoe at the Willey West Campground and canoe to Berrymoor and they will have experienced paddlers with them," said Eagle Point-Blue Rapids Parks Council director for finance and administration Bev Brooks. "Another option for an activity is to learn archery from the Brazeau Bowbenders Archery Club and again there are experienced archers that will take them to the archery range and teach them how to shoot a bow and arrow. The West Central Boat Association will be offering boat rides on the North Saskatchewan River." Other activities including hiking or eating at the barbeque are also available for people who do not want to go into the water and would rather stay at the park. "If they do not want to participate in the canoe ride or if they do not want to do the bow and arrow, they can spend their day at the park because there are a lot of things to explore there," Brooks said. "There are a lot of trails where families can hike or bike on. They are welcome to come out and just spend some time at the park using the day area and still take in and participate in the barbeque and hang out with us during the day." The fall day event which starts at 9 a.m. is free of charge, thanks to sponsors. "All of the participants will get a bagged lunch to take with them for their day's activities and then when they come back to Willey West Park, we have a community barbeque and at cake and a bit of a presentation on the natural wonders of the park in that area," Brooks said. "We have support from the community and that is why we offer it free of charge. We have sponsors of our activities and we got some local sponsors like local grocery stores and the bakery. They will be providing us with some gift cards to be able to provide the food and then we have some corporate sponsors that have helped us with our programming so that helps us offer it free of charge." Anyone interested in coming out to the event must register at epbraparks.council.ab.ca or at (780) 898-9445 by July 16. "It is a really great way to explore our park system and to take advantage of something close to home that offers some very interesting and beautiful sites," Brooks said.

Farmers' Market celebrating 40th anniversary July 15

On July 1, the Evergreen Farmers' Market joined Canada Day celebrations at the Omniplex so residents and visitors could take in family events and shop at the same time.

The market featured a Pie Eating Contest in which 20 people participated for ribbons by eating home-made apple, cherry, strawberry and rhubarb pies baked by the wife of one of the vendors.

Parents also signed their children up for the Power of Produce Kids Club (P.O.P.) which can be used at any one of the upcoming markets. Children received a club card and for every purchase made at participating vendors, children will get a stamp or initial on their cards. When five spaces are filled, they can get $5 bucks to spend, and each card is worth $15 bucks. The first 120 families to register on Canada Day also received free shopping bags.

"It was a successful event," noted Colleen Schouningen, Market Manager.

Forty years of attendance is a feat to be celebrated and that is just what the Evergreen Farmers' Market is planning to do on Wednesday, July 15 from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Vendors are hoping residents will help celebrate 40 years in Drayton Valley by visiting the market and renewing acquaintances while shopping with their families.

The vendors will be hosting draws and samples of goods, and the market has arranged for entertainment – a bounce house for kids, sparkle tattoos, free coffee and cake and a visit from the CRW Community Crozier.

The market will also be presenting an award to the Warburg Colony Growers who were one of the founding vendors of the market 40 years ago and who are still attending markets today.

We will also be having a visit from the original "Sunny Girl" who toured the various markets in 1975 to launch the provincial association logo you see on all Alberta Approved Farmers' Markets. Did you know the lives right here in Drayton Valley and has been teaching for years? We will have a Meet the Sunny Girl event at the information table on July 8 and 15.

We hope to see some friendly faces of past Managers, AG Society Members, Municipal Councillors and supportive business owners who have helped the market or donated over the years, and of course vendors during the upcoming weeks.

If you are a past Make It, Bake It, Grow It vendor and would like to reserve a table for the July 15 market, please contact Colleen, Market Manager at 780-514-6897 or visit the Facebook page: Drayton Valley Evergreen Farmers Market or website: dvergreenfarmersmarket.ca

See you at the Market.

Provincial Court Report

Cathy Woolman
Western Review

An 18-year-old man from Drayton Valley learned a hard financial lesson in Provincial Court on June 30 after the judge gave him a hefty fine for having a blood alcohol level exceeding .08 milligrams.

Court heard that on December 20, 2014, police received a complaint of a vehicle pulled over in the Meraw Acres subdivision. When police approached the vehicle, they discovered the driver and passenger passed out in the vehicle. Police woke up the driver, Jacob Cook, and performed a breathalyzer test on him with results that read 210.00 milligrams, more than twice the legal limit.

Because of Cook's age and his wanting to attend university in the future to become a doctor, Judge Higerty fined him $2500, plus a victim surcharge of $750 and put him on a one year probation.

Before sentencing, Judge Higerty stated, "These are very, very high readings. Thank goodness nobody was hurt." The judge also prohibited Cook from driving for one year.

Bad blood between two men resulted in a Drayton Valley man pleading guilty to a charge of possession of a weapon in Provincial Court on June 30.

Twenty-one year-old Justin Jabbs was put on probation for six months, during which time he is to keep the peace and be of good behaviour, have no contact with the person he fought with, appear before the court when required to do so, notify court of a change in name, address or employment, meet with a probation officer and attend all assessments or treatment as directed by the probation officer. The judge also gave him 40 hours of community service to the satisfaction of his probation officer.

After sentencing, Judge Higerty told him, "You have taken something out of this community, but you're putting something into it. At the end of six months, you will have no criminal record."

Judge Higerty gave Drayton Valley resident John Belcourt a conditional discharge for assaulting his wife while he was intoxicated. The incident occurred in December of 2014.

The judge put him Belcourt on a year's probation, during which time he is to keep the peace and be of good behaviour, inform his probation officer of any change of name, address or employment and attend counselling.

Automated Traffic Enforcement

Submitted by Town of Drayton Valley

During the June 24, 2015, Regular Meeting of Council, statistics were presented regarding the automated traffic enforcement program:

- 855 warning tickets issued up to May 10, 2015
- 1105 tickets issued from May 10 to June 4, 2015
- 303 tickets were duplicates and were not issued as only one ticket was issued per plate number for May (there were a few that had 5 tickets in the system and 1 plate was caught 9 times)
- Maximum speed monitored was 133 km/h

"Speeding is a concern in the community. Residents have consistently shared their concerns on this over the years. The problem is evident in the statistics presented. We have looked at different tools to mitigate speeding and have determined that automated traffic enforcement would be a useful tool in decreasing the speeding problem," said Mayor Glenn McLean.

"Fine amounts issued via automated traffic enforcement tickets are specified in the Alberta Traffic Safety Act and collected by the regional courthouse in Leduc. Funds collected are distributed to the Province, the automated traffic enforcement provider, and the Town. The proportion of funds that the Town receives is confidential as per our agreement with the automated traffic enforcement provider; a requirement in order to protect competitive aspects of the provider's business model."

The Town of Drayton Valley has established Policy (A-04-14) which states that all funds received from automated traffic enforcement will be held in a Safe and Healthy Community Reserve Account. This reserve will be utilized to fund projects such as community resiliency initiatives, youth summer camps, recreation facilities and programming and community safety initiatives. The goal is to create a safer community for our youth, adults, and seniors.

Flamingos taking summer break

Cathy Weetman Western Review

The Kin flock composed of 30 bright plastic flamingos are leaving Drayton Valley for a short vacation. They will return sometime in September.

For the past couple of weeks, the birds have been flocking to commercial businesses in and around Drayton Valley, including the Vermillion Energy Building, Cream Compression, with their last stop chid at the Pitblow Campground.

This has been a very fun project for the Kin Club and the residents, and we're all looking forward to their return in September.

The flamingos were spotted on the lawn in front of the Vermillion Energy building this past month.

A number of Edmonton's Cooper Studios singers took part in The Leduc Black Gold Singing Competitions held recently.

One of its competitors was Drayton Valley's Krissey Fenski. After the competition she received news she was picked to compete at The Big Valley Junction Family Stage competitions this summer.

How to train like an elite athlete

News Canada

(N) You don't need to be an elite athlete or on Team Canada to strive for a more fit and healthy lifestyle. You just need to eat right and get active. Luckily, reading provides more inspiration than watching our country's finest athletes compete at the highest level in international sporting events like the summer's Pan Am Games in Toronto.

With this in mind, a few of Canada's top medal hopefuls for the Games have tips and tricks for staying healthy and fit while enjoying the great outdoors during their intense training regimen.

According to Victoria, B.C. triathlete and two-time Olympic medal-winning swimmer Ryan Cochrane, the first step is to fuel your body with proteins, carbs and nutrients including multivitamins.

"You've got to have energy to train and compete at this level and most of us consume 3000-4000 calories per day if not more during intense training and competition," he explained, while also advising to avoid processed foods and focus on fresh products.

Olympic diver Jennifer Abel from Laval, Quebec starts every day with breathing exercises and stretching and makes a concerted effort to train outside as often as possible. "I love being outdoors and enjoying the sunshine as it's a change of pace from spending a whole day indoors at a swimming pool. Of course, training outside, you have to adjust to several more distractions because of the weather but this also adds a little more suspense to the competition," said Abel.

Even with these regimens in place, elite athletes can also suffer pain and other common ailments during training and competition but they can't let it slow them down as both Abel and Cochrane can attest.

"When it comes to physical pain, I need to listen to my body just like everyone else. I sometimes suffer from muscle and joint pain, headaches and even allergies but I can't let that stop me. That's why I try to always keep a bag of ice on hand. I consult my medical health professionals regularly and I rely on them over the counter medication to provide effective relief when I need it," Cochrane added.

To learn more about top athletes competing at the games and the "Hello Outdoors" online contest, where participants will have the chance to win up to $10,000 worth of outdoor equipment and a number of secondary prizes, visit news.canada.com.
